ITINERARY –

DAY 1 – ARRIVE JACKSONVILLE, FL

Jacksonville, Florida is a major commercial port in the Southeast of the United States. Originally the home of the Timucua Native American Tribe, Jacksonville was the site of one of Florida's first European settlements. By 1822, Florida was under the control of the United States and the town was named after Andrew Jackson. Today, the city is home to many cultural institutions as well as both historical and art museums.

DAY 2 – AMELIA ISLAND (FERNANDINA BEACH), FL

This Victorian-style seaport is the stomping ground of adventuresome legends. It tells tales of bootleggers and pirates, shrimpers and seamen. Downtown is an enchanting village that flaunts its historic district in rich, lovingly preserved architecture. Drink in some local spirit on an included visit to the Marlin & Barrel Distillery, with tastings and a behind-the-scenes look. The party continues at the Palace Saloon, and the Amelia Island Welcome Center and Shrimping Museum peer deep into the brine for insights on a crucial local industry.

DAY 3 – BRUNSWICK, GA

In the anchor town serving the barrier Golden Isles, wander downtown Brunswick's charming streets, lined with colorful Victorian architecture and swaying palms side by side with mossy oaks. Watch shrimp boats unload their fresh fare at the docks, and sample their catches in a rustic seafood shack or an upscale gastropub. Across the Marshes of Glynn, "heavenly woods and glades" memorialized by poet Sidney Lanier grace unspoiled, unhurried St. Simons Island, where an included tour visits the Lighthouse Museum and the A.W. Jones Heritage Center. At the World War II Home Front Museum, gain a rare glimpse into life during that time as it was lived in coastal Georgia among three critical military facilities.

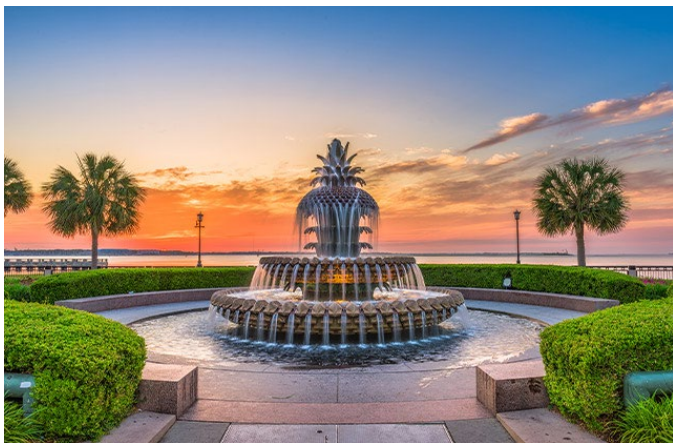

DAY 4 – SAVANNAH, GA

A stroll through one of the Savannah's city squares provides the proper backdrop for a renaissance of emotion, and the collaborative efforts of its architectural artisans have inspired a Southern-gothic aesthetic different from that of any other place. This pedestrian-friendly city is where the little things – breweries and mustard-based barbecue, live oaks and lighthouses – come together to create a mighty experience. Be enticed by the bounty of the centuries-old City Market and explore history at Davenport House and other intriguing highlights on an included narrated tour through the cobblestone streets.

DAY 5 – CHARLESTON, SC

Along the southern coast of South Carolina rests Charleston, boasting a unique blend of casual and sophisticated in the ever-present beauty of its blooming culture. This charming port features a maze of recreation ripe for travelers to navigate. Eyes light up at the spectacle of the candy-colored waterfront houses on Rainbow Row, and guests love surveying the ocean from the scenic seawall promenade of The Battery. These highlights and others make for an engaging included tour.

DAY 6 - BEAUFORT (PORT ROYAL), SC

Beaufort blends Lowcountry lifestyle with coastal sight-lines to craft a unique atmosphere. Antebellum architecture still stands, and reminds locals to embrace the Southern hospitality that their community was built upon. The sometimes-tumultuous history of this charming place comes alive at included tour stops such as the Santa Elena History Center, Beaufort National Cemetery and the local history museum. Embrace the present – and grab a few gifts – on a shopping trip downtown.

DAY 7 – JACKSONVILLE (ST. AUGUSTINE), FL

Nearly five centuries have built upon one another to construct modern St. Augustine. The city is America's oldest, and embraces its connection to the past. Brick-lined streets, horse-drawn carriages and century-old buildings reflect the town's multicultural heritage. Its contrasts only enhance the experience; this old city gives way to a youthful aura – from a modern art encounter to a sip from Ponce de Leon's Fountain of Youth. This ever-popular vacation destination is alive with history, brimming with sightseeing opportunities and simply waiting to be explored.
